Filipelli Bondsman For Bay Fugitive

MARTINEZ, June 12.—John C. Filipelli, accused of being one of the leaders in the Alameda county liquor ring, was revealed today as the bondsman for Joe Regnato of San Francisco who failed to appear before Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado yesterday on a felony charge of operation of a still.

Regnato's bond, amounting to $5000, was declared forfeited by Judge Alvarado who issued a bench warrant for the man's arrest. It was Filipelli, according to authorities, who arranged for the release of Regnato following his arrest after officers had raided near Lafayette. Five other men arrested at the same time pleaded guilty and were sentenced yesterday.

YOUTH SHOT BY BORDER GUARD DIES

DETROIT, June 12.—UP—As federal and county officials renewed their investigation into the shooting of Archibald Eustice, 21, by a customs border patrolman, the youth died at a hospital here today.

Jonah Cox, the patrolman who fired the shot, was released after giving a statement in which he charged Eustice and two companions had been on a liquor runner's launch, confiscated by government agents.

Cox said he was guarding the launch which had been beached near the mouth of River Rouge on the Detroit river.

Near Run Boat

Two companions of Eustice, Joseph Lakatos, 20, and Raymond Malicki, 21, said they had set out on a fishing expedition near the liquor launch, when they were fired upon.

Records show that Eustice was arrested three years ago for leaving the scene of an automobile accident and was sentenced to serve six months in the Detroit House of Correction. Lakatos, officials said, was charged last January with violating the state prohibition law but was discharged for lack of evidence.

Assistant County Prosecutor Van H. Ring, said that while his investigation disclosed facts indicating the youths might have been connected with liquor smuggling instead of on a fishing expedition as they claimed, the shooting appeared to have been unjustified.

In his statement explaining the shooting Cox said that two of Eustice's companions were aboard the run launch before it was beached and deserted near midnight Monday. The shooting occurred at about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. Cox was uncertain whether Eustice was in the boat.

FORMATION OF THIRD PARTY THREATENED IN FARM ROW

WASHINGTON, June 12.—UP—President Hoover finally has estranged the administration farm bill from the morass which threatened to engulf it, but without confusion in party ranks that manifested itself openly today at the capital.

Senator Smith and William Brookhart of Iowa, Hoover's chief farm belt campaigner, raised the standard of revolt in the Senate today because of his dissatisfaction with the farm bill without the debuture. He suggested formation of a third party if the debuture is vetoed, which no one took very seriously, but which was regarded nevertheless as a gauge of farm discontent.

There will be no necessity of a veto, it was revealed today by canvasses of Republican House leaders who reported the debuture would be voted down Thursday by from 50 to 100 votes. It was not Republican leaders who were worried today. They saw a final victory, with the conferees again eliminating the debuture and the Senate yielding, all of which may take place by the end of this week. At least partly next week.

Vote Thursday

The worrying was done by House members from that same country represented by

NEW GAS CO. ASKS PIPE PERMIT

MARTINEZ, June 12.—Francisco for the construction of pipe lines from the eastern end of Contra Costa county to Richmond was asked by the Western Natural Gas company in a petition filed with the county board of supervisors here today. The company plans to pipe gas from the Kettleman Hills district to the bay regions.

Recently the Western gas company applied to the State Railroad Commission for permission to lay its pipe lines. This petition was in opposition to the one filed by the Pacific Gas and Electric company which is seeking to serve the same territory.

The Western company has amended its original petition to the railroad commission by deleting from its plea permission to serve industrial and domestic consumers direct.

This leaves as the prize for competition a between the Pacific Gas and Electric company and the Western company, the sale of gas at wholesale to the Coast Counties Gas and Electric company in Pittsburg, Martinez, Crockett, Concord and other cities.

Max Thelan, a former member of the railroad commission is attorney for the Western Gas company.

It is understood that the Western company plans to purchase its natural gas from the Standard Oil company wells.

San Francisco and Oakland St. Andrew's societies will join in the event. There will be races, a tennis tournament and a Highland Fling contest for juniors.

The program last night was under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Dawson who accompanied the various numbers. Miss Andie Mansfield presented several violin solos, songs were sung by Mrs. Dawson and Donald McLennan and band selections were played by George Tonari.

Peter McCullum read a paper on "The Story of Scotland's Shrine" by Nerval Seryngore, describing the memorial to war veterans.

John Tait, president of the Oakland society, and Archie Glen past president, were among the visitors.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Robert Fulton, Jack Robertson and Steve Buchanan.

The evening was concluded by dancing to music by "Mack's" orchestra.

BUILDING PERMIT

M. Brickovich has been granted a permit by the office of A. J. Hurley, city building inspector, to build and enclose a porch addition to a home on McLaughlin avenue between Esmond and Garvia avenues. The work to cost $50 will be done by J. A. Robak.

Right Of Way For Gas Main Requested

Proposed rights of way for the new 20 inch natural gas main to be built in Richmond by the Pacific Gas and Electric company are being studied by J. A. McVitie, city manager and E. A. Hoffman, city engineer.

A representative of the company called at the city hall yesterday and presented a map with a proposed route to be followed by the line. Several changes may be suggested in these plans by the city, however.

The 20 inch main is to be a direct continuation of the line which will bring the natural gas to Oakland from the Kettleman Field in the southern part of the state.

Fire believed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette thrown into a pile of blankets and bedding, destroyed a home in the Alvarado park district yesterday, causing $500 damages and killing a police dog.

The home was owned by Frank Cheek and was occupied by Todd and James Murray, according to Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, who investigated the blaze. Although the fire was out side the city limits, Chief Cooper responded to the alarm. When Engine No. 3 reached the scene they found the house a mass of flames and it was impossible to save it.

A police dog owned by Todd Murray lost its life in the fire. All furnishings of the house, with the exception of a radio set, were burned.

The loss is covered by insurance.

Grading Started On South Tenth Street

Grading was started yesterday on the filled in portion of South Tenth street. Officials of the California Construction company, granted the contract for the paving, state that the actual laying of the paving will be started as soon as the grading has been completed.

Some delay has been caused on the job by the dampness of the ground which is practically all filled in. It is very early now, however, for the graders to work and the paving will be in full swing within a short time.

The paving of the street is one of the last steps by the city of Richmond to prepare the Ford factory site on the inner harbor under an agreement with offi-

Under the plans of the company it is proposed to reach all of the major industries in Richmond with the main. The main line of the company will go as far as the Standard Oil plant, the plans submitted yesterday indicate.

The 20 inch main is to be a direct continuation of the line which will bring the natural gas to Oakland from the Kettleman Field in the southern part of the state.

MAN 'SEEN' AT MANY POINTS

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(UP)—Through comparison of fingerprints, William Louis Tallman, today was believed to have been definitely connected for the first time with the apartment in which Mrs. Virginia Davis was beaten to death and found in a closet.

Police experts said that fingerprints found in the room were identical with those in Tallman's record obtained from Washington, D. C., headquarters of the United States Marines.

Some of the prints in the apartment were near a hole in the kitchen floor through which remnants of a woman's dress and miscellaneous articles, including a woman's hat, were found. Other marks were on a white cloth which police believed had been emptied only a few hours before the apartment was abandoned.

Still other prints were found on the wall of the kitchen, which the pretty banker's wife was beaten with a brick, in the living room and on furniture giving police plenty of fingerprints with which to work.

Tallman Hit

Chief of Detectives Herman Cline said that the development removed all doubt in his mind that Tallman was the slayer.

The missing radio, which had been connected with the case previously had been found entirely on circumstantial evidence.

The murder complaint against him was issued because of suspicion selected by Frank Petty, the ordered woman's husband, and the landlady's identification of

2 JAILED IN LEAD THEFTS

MARTINEZ, June 12.—Pleading guilty to charges of petty theft involving the stealing of 500 pounds of lead from the Hercules Powder company's plant last Monday, George McCarthy, 21, of 428 Lexington avenue, San Francisco, and his brother-in-law, Frank Costa, 22, of 4118 Express avenue, Oakland, were sentenced to terms of six months each in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Frank Gass today.

The men were arrested yesterday in Oakland after Deputy Sheriff J. J. Joseph had traced them through a truck they used to transport the metal. A sheepherder noticed the pair removing the lead and took the license number of their truck. The stolen metal was recovered.

THE WOMAN OF IT

BY MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

The Triumph of Experience Over Hope!

DEAR BRIDES: There probably isn't one of you so worldly-wise, so cynical, so disillusioned. That, whatever she thinks about marriage in general, she is not still hoping in the depths of her heart. That HER marriage will be the real, right thing. An elixir of life, triply compounded of passion, comradeship, compassion—Of scarlet flowers, congenial team work and play, a great tenderness. You may have remarked nonchalantly, like many a modern girl. That, if your marriage doesn't work, you can always get a divorce. Since nobody marries for life nowadays! Just the same, even if you won't admit it openly, you are hoping. That YOUR marriage will be no brief experiment ending in failure. That it will be something which grows richer and more interesting and more delightful with the years. The husband and wife, who find everything which great and fortunate married lovers have found in it. That the cynics, who say marriage is bound to be either a dramatic failure or a dull one, are wrong. Every bride must hope they are wrong; we know it! We know, frankly, that marriage may be a success and an ever-increasing happiness. And we haven't any self-consciousness about saying so. Especially to-day, our thirtieth wedding anniversary. In an absent-minded moment, we recently made a columnar reference to last year's anniversary as the thirtieth. We can only remark, in excuse, "How the time does fly when you're enjoying yourself!"

So many persons are "craving" marriage, just now. That we earnestly think a woman whose marital experience has triumphed over her bridal hope. Ought to encourage the youngsters by telling them that married life can be like that.

The earliest years of marriage are not necessarily the best years—Often these are children, with the problems and self-denial and nerve-strain they must mean. Along with the interest and delight. When at last they grow up and go away to live of their own. The husband and wife, who have stayed in love, simply taste the joy of a second honeymoon.

They have more freedom, more time, more money to use together. And if they get more of a "kick" out of being together than with any one else. Can't you see what happiness lies ahead of them?

We two have been having the time of our lives, for this last month. On the June-twenty-ninth job of nest-making. We've bought a new beach bungalow just on the high-tide edge, just from the front piazza and from practically all the windows.

And, gosh, how we've worked over it! No June bride and bridegroom are going to fuss more ardently or more happily over their little home. Than we two have fussed—Painting, screen-building, shelf-making, collecting curtains and portieres, and soft covers patterned in pink roses and blue parrots.

We've worked all week-end till dark. And dined anywhere from eight-thirty to nine-thirty-five. But it's been tremendously good fun, because two of us were doing it.

For two of us. That's how things can be, after years of married life. We're not arguing, we're telling you brides—And we're not boasting, because we know that we expect. Just what many other happily married folk feel. And what they too would tell you—Wishing you all the happiness in the world on your wedding day!

The Mechanical Woman—When, As and If. Man may have been the superior sex, but for once, woman will be able to rule by the IRON HAND! Women will have to keep out of the rain, else the school-girl complexion may rust. At last a woman's broken heart can be soldered.

A woman's handbag will become a plumber's kit. Many a bathing beauty contest will be held in the bath factory. Many an old maid will have to be scrapped as junk. Girls, there'll be no more devastating diets for reducing! All that will be necessary is a steam roller! The screwdriver will join the ranks of the can opener as mainstays of married life. Women will become power-housewives. A woman's new spring costume will consist of an added coat of paint. Instead of a marriage license, it may be necessary to obtain license plates. Kipling might then call woman a bank of wire and a bag of bolts. Last, but not least, women will finally prove to men that they are of finer metal!

DAVID SANOFF.

Women Are Not Political 'Fraids'

With the foundation here of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, and the coincidence in England of the Flappers' Election and the triumph of Labor, what becomes of the sweet old-fashioned notion of woman's intense conservatism?

Household Inventions

A woman is the inventor of a long-handled tool to place picture wires over wall moldings. A fork with a telescoping handle that extends to a safe length has been designed for roasting bread or cooking other food over open fires.

A thumb-operated sliding lever on a new kitchen fork removes food from its tines without breaking and saves its owner's fingers from being burned.

Spring controlled wire tongs have been invented to lift eggs or vegetables from boiling water without injury or danger of slipping.

A frame on casters has been invented for converting rocking chairs into wheel chairs.

The Shantung Cardigan

WHAT could be more attractive for sports wear than the jacket of fashionable shantung for wear over the tennis frock! It is shown in a variety of colors such as tan, blue, green, yellow and red, as well as white, and is demurely tailored.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith
ARE you tired at the end of the day?
Do you know what makes you tired?
Do you do the same old thing day after day, week after week, year after year?
No wonder you are tired. I don't blame you.
Why not have a change? Put on a new dress. Go to a beauty parlor a barber shop, a theatre or dance or something different.
Let the sunshine in.
Cultivate ANTICIPATION, which means "enjoying before hand."
JUST BE A LITTLE BIT DIFFERENT.

Leopard Trims Coats

A FEW very different looking coats for young women are shown in the soft, cashmere weave with squarish face framing collar of leopard—a truly clever thought if one wishes to inject a striking note of black in the costume by way of black accessories such as bag, hat shoes.

Bloomers Shorten

VERY very short bloomers are yet another vogue that is on the increase. So extreme are some models termed brevities that they scarcely cover the hips, but are cut, of course, so that fullness is circular and a flat smooth surface is possible. Summer bloomers are in keeping with the bandeaus affected for comfort.

Costume Flowers

How to Make Durable and Beautiful Dress Ornaments.

By Mary H. White

In preceding articles instructions in the cutting of the petals, the covering of the stems, the shaping and decoration of the flower, have been given. This and one following article give the flower maker instructions for the completed spray.

FIFTH ARTICLE

THE leaves, now dry, may be given another coat of green and the cast centre treated likewise. Mix a little gold powder with oil to a cream consistency. Brush lightly a cloudlike impression over the green paint. Emphasize the deep recesses by a deeper touch. The ridge (the joining of net to silk) is now covered with moss powder, held securely with liquid glue, this applied with a paint brush. Pat down the moss, adding more as required.

Assuming the moss has been cut very fine, the very natural mosaic appearance now softens the leaf. With a finer brush paint in the green veins, a shadow of gilt accompanying. In places allow a little moss to nestle as if blown there by the wind. The surface of the leaf completed, brush a thin coat of glue to the clay and apply the moss to the underneath side.

Setting the Jewel

Pearls as jewels are lovely mounted in the cast centres. Cut the wire fifteen inches long. Insert through the pearl, repeat with a second wire, doubled. The four strands are twisted at the base of the pearl, put through the centre and so form the flower's stem. Brush glue about the gathers that touch the centre, press these together, leave to dry.

At the stem's highest point under and touching the flower, wind several thicknesses of damping cotton, tapering gradually to a thinner strand terminating the downward stem or stalk. For this is thicker, naturally, than the stems of leaves. Wind this cotton over with the silk as were wound the leaves. Putting moss-powder thickly around the heavy parts under the flower.

Return to the mounted pearls. The little wire holding same to position may be brushed with glue, this, coating from the brush into the coup around the pearl and taking a good bit of moss powder, yellow-green. Press this down well. Use plenty of powder and glue and a very permanent setting will result.

Branching

The single flower that was shown in the illustration has four leaves. The two heavier ones protrude and give support to the flower, their stems twisted and the ends finished with moss powder. The smaller two are fastened to the main stem in back of the flowers. Buds and longer branches will be described in the next article.

When You're Marketing

Choose medium-sized parsnips with tender roots, but do not buy those that are withered or shriveled.

Buy peas with pods that are green and brittle and the peas should be green.

Select veal for your dinner—it is at its best during May and June. For a roast ask for the loin, and if you prefer the tasty brisket, ask the butcher to put in a pocket, then fill this with a bread dressing.

Laces for Lingerie

Dark sheer lace or that tinted to match the color of the fabric is increasingly meeting with the approval of American women. Fine French lingerie and that from the more exclusive domestic houses show the tinted laces as slightly newer than those of very deep ecru.

Space-Saving Device

A large wooden box which could fit under a window or in a corner, is delicately painted and finished with quaint prints. When the top is lifted a sliding drawer, divided to hold a dozen pairs of stockings, is revealed. Under this drawer there are two metal racks to hold shoes firmly in place.

FOLLIES OF FASHION

Three-Quarter Sleeve Is Often Unbecoming

By Marguerite Barnes

CAPE worn with sleeveless dresses are very popular. The woman on the left has one which comes to a point between her elbow and wrist. This gives the same effect as the old three-quarter sleeves did and unless one has beautiful wrists and small hands, it is sure to be unflattering. She should choose a cape high enough to show the full part of her arm and if she has large hands, gloves should be worn. The new eight-button gloves are being used with this type of costume.

MUSINGS ON MENUS

BY NANCY DORRIS

Sometimes the very simplicity of a dessert is the reason for its appeal to sophisticated palates. Sometimes the revival of an old-time favorite arouses gustatory enthusiasm.

Such an old-time dessert is fruit scallop, discovered long ago by some adventurous cook. Fresh fruit neatly sliced in a buttered baking dish were decorations of butter and sugar under a mantle of fine crumbs.

The kitchen oven managed the whole into a buttery delectable. Canned and dried fruits were also scalloped with success. At the moment, apple and rhubarb scallop suggests tempting desserts for early summer dinners.

RHUBARB SCALLOP
Three cups sliced rhubarb
One cup sugar
One egg
One-fourth teaspoon salt
Three-fourths cup flour
One-fourth cup butter
One-half cup sugar
One-half teaspoon cinnamon
Baking time: Forty-five minutes

To make the crumbs, rub together in a bowl the butter and mixed flour, sugar and cinnamon. Work to a blended mixture and sprinkle over the pudding. Bake in a moderate oven—350-400 degrees 7- or forty-five minutes, when the rhubarb and sugar will be one and the crumbs a comforting mantle. Serve hot or cold.

FARM BILL UP FOR VOTE TODAY

Brookhart and other western Republicans who split with the administration and supported the debenture. They face the vote Thursday, with some political qualms. For weeks they were successful in preventing a vote in the House. But the Senate forced them to it, and President Hoover advised Republican leaders this is the only way out.

Democrats were credited today with a successful piece of political strategy in forcing western House members, all of whom are up for re-election next year, to go on record for the debenture. Democrats see it as a live political issue. They will use it in attempting to unseat those who vote tomorrow against the debenture.

The House met for only a few minutes today, receiving the farm bill from the Senate at noon and adjourning shortly afterward. Republican Floor Leader Tilson announced the House would vote directly on the debenture Thursday.

Support Seen

A large number of Democrats will support the debenture in the vote Thursday. It will receive wide support from western farm leaders, 130 and three here and there. Those who will vote against it took their position today. It was best explained by Rep. Dickinson of Iowa, leader of the House Farm bloc.

"The debenture is not an issue," he said. "The president has indicated he will veto the farm bill if the debenture is included. We want farm legislation. Therefore, the debenture will have to be eliminated."

His stand will be taken by other western members in explaining votes against the debenture to their constituents. Some of them expressed the wish today that the president had said openly in his statement Tuesday that he would veto the bill if the debenture was included. He did not go that far, but his words will be interpreted that way.

Brookhart In Break

Brookhart broke with President Hoover on farm relief several weeks ago, and his speech today chiefly was significant in his suggestion for a third party. Brookhart was one of those who followed the late Senator La Follette into a third party in 1924.

"We should at once organize to put up a progressive candidate in every congressional district and for senator in every state, who will fight for this program," he said, referring to a proposal that the debenture be put in the tariff bill. "If the tariff bill should be vetoed by the president we should follow with a progressive candidate for president."

Brookhart said if the debenture plan could not be put into the farm bill, he thought the bill should be passed, and the fight then centered in getting it into the tariff bill. He took issue with the president's statement that the administration bill is "the most important agency ever set up in the government to assist an industry," saying Mr. Hoover was in "very great error."

To maintain a slender figure, no one can deny the truth of the advice: "REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Malicious Propaganda

No amount of malicious propaganda, an insult to public intelligence and good faith, can sway public belief in this fact: Lucky Strike is a blend of choice tobaccos whose toasted flavor thrills the taste, whose toasting process eliminates impurities, and, as 20,679* physicians testify, makes Luckies less irritating. Toasting elevates Lucky Strike to a plane of quality which no other cigarette can approach. The constant care of experts assures the quality of Luckies. Its choice by millions proves its superiority and is the truthful answer to selfish claims.

1800 conversations at once through a cable less than 3 inches thick

The earth beneath our great cities is so crowded with pipes, cables, etc., that any further additions create serious engineering problems. Yet the number of telephone calls that must flash underground is steadily increasing.

The challenge to the scientific minds of the Bell System was to find a way for more conversations in existing conduits. Today, by many improvements, cables of 1800 pairs of wires have been perfected. Eighteen hundred conversations at once—600 more than before—can pulse through them.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. Better and better service at the lowest cost is the goal.

POEAR FLIGHT PICTURED IN 'CONQUEST'

Intent upon picturing one of the most stirring of current dramatic subjects, "Conquest," the picture which has been made by the Fox-California theatre, is a story which has the action of a war, the excitement of a race, and the drama of a love story.

Warner Bros. have produced a remarkable picture, "Conquest," which is a story of a man's life. The picture is a story of a man's life, and it is a story of a man's life. The picture is a story of a man's life, and it is a story of a man's life.

Weary River To Close Today At Fox-California

Betty Bronson, beautiful blond actress, again appears as leading woman for Richard Barthelmess in the picture "Weary River," which closes its engagement at the Fox-California theatre tonight.

Miss Bronson's first appearance with Barthelmess was recently in "The Man Who Laughs," which was a story of a man's life. The picture is a story of a man's life, and it is a story of a man's life.

Scribes Signed To Assist In Bellamy Trial

Monte Bell has an all-star cast in more ways than one in "The Bellamy Trial," now playing at the Fox-California theatre as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature. For in the great courtroom scenes the director not only has stars of the stage and screen but also stars of the newspaper world in the press rows.

The newspaper staff was recruited from various city and county newspapers and wire service offices, the scribes being signed on regular contracts for the duration of the huge production.

Leatrice Joy plays the woman on trial, and the leading role in the film of the mystery story by Frances Nox, Hart, George Barrington, and Kenneth Thompson. Edward Nugent, Betty Bronson, Margaret Livingston and many others are in the supporting cast.

LAVISH SETS FOR FILM HERE

Everything about "The Man Who Laughs," the Universal super production now at the Macdonald theater with Mary Philbin and Conrad Veidt in the starring roles, has been excellent on a lavish and unprecedented scale.

The settings, the costumes, the stars and featured players—even the extras, were the finest obtainable. Jani Lenti, the director, needed atmosphere players of exceptional ability for the important sequence depicting the English nobles in session in the tremendous House of Lords set.

With the aid of the Universal casting office, Lenti was able to obtain, as atmosphere players, many actors who have all been featured at some time, and a few of whom were stars a few years ago.

The result was the best acted mob scene that has been presented on the screen.

Among the so-called atmosphere players were Henry Barrows, Brock O'Farrell, Jack Fowler, Tempair Saxe, Henry Roquemore, Archduke Leopold of Austria, Anton Vavricka, Allan Sears, Howard Davies, Les Bates, Charles Brimley, D'Arcy Corrigan, Scott Seaton, Louis Stern, Al H. Stewart, Charles Hancock and Richard Bartlett and many equally as well known.

The featured players supporting Mr. Philbin and Veidt are George Siegmann, Baclanova, Brandon Hurst, Torben Meyer, Julius Molnar, Jr., Cesare Gravina, Stuart Holmes, Nick de Ruiz, Sam de Grasse, Edgar Norton, Charles Duff, Josephine Crowell, Frank Puglia and Carmen Cos ello.

 Copyright 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
 "NOAH'S ARK," starring Dolores Costello and featuring George O'Brien, is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel. It is based upon the scenario by Caryll Francis Zanuck.

SYNOPSIS
 Three men, Ivan, Armand, and Paul, a French girl, Marie, two serious friends and a girl, a priest, are thrown together on a continental express. The train is wrecked and Travis rescues Marie. The travellers discover a mysterious inn, where the three friends are over the girl, each around the other suddenly German soldiers appear announcing war. Marie, Travis and Al escape to Paris. Marie believes Travis intends to marry her, but he returns to America, leaving her heart broken and disillusioned. During the war she goes to a village near the front, searching for Travis. She meets the priest, now an army chaplain. An airplane raid.

 The plane swerved. Its great nose pointed towards the ground. It was as though everything had happened with a sort of snapping of the fingers. And the plane was bumping down upon the square church tower, sending the stones and mortar flying about like hail. For a second it seemed to pause, caught on a corner of the projection. And then with a crash it had landed squarely in the middle of the churchyard.

"It's a German plane," the priest announced. "The French runners must have brought it down. We must see if there is anyone hurt." "But—but they are Germans," the girl retorted, for the first time, almost, showing any spark of feeling.

The man in the peasant's blouse dropped his hand apathetically to his side and shook his head. "I don't know," he said. "His words came hard—feebly, with a tremor, with realization. "I think—I think I was a soldier once. You're a soldier, too." He leaned over and plucked at the man's uniform as a child might. "You are a soldier, too. Lots of snow, and ice—snow, and I don't know." His mumbled words trailed off, as though the effort were too great for him to make.

The French soldier, still regarding his new companion, was at that moment interrupted in his inspection by the approach of footsteps descending the stairs. The two men turned their heads slowly. The priest was leading the way. His searchlight in his hand, he heaved the bottom of the steps, both men could see a pair of ankles then a skirt, and at last the figure of a woman. Marie followed her attention in his senses, that is all I shall want you to do."

"Very well, Father," Marie answered. She took the candle from the wall without glancing at the other occupants of the room, knelt down beside the wounded man. The French soldier and the man in the peasant's blouse both leaned forward. As though by their movement her attention had been placed on the man, the priest's hand illuminated her face with a clarity that made each feature seem distinguishable.

The priest disappeared up the stairs. Suddenly the face of the man in the peasant's blouse lighted up. "It's—it's—God! It's the girl on the train—the girl on the train!" He staggered to his feet, his ragged clothing falling about him. "Now I know who I am—I know! I am Ivan Saranov! Ivan Saranov!" He stretched his arms above his head in a gesture of exultation. "Now I remember—I remember that night on the train. We were coming from Elmsberg—a girl got on. An Armand Duval! That dirty coward! Look I must look what he did to me. He stretched out his maimed hand. But as he raised the other two men sat up staring.

"I am Armand Duval! The French soldier attempted to rise to his feet, but sank back in his seat. "You! Yes, you are Armand Duval—now I remember everything! The big Russian was stamping the floor in a frenzy. "And the girl—she is the girl—she came into our compartment—sat down with me. What is his name? Emil. What is his name? Emil. "I am Emil Helmski! The man on the pallet sat up, rubbing his head where a livid scar glowed in the light of the candle. (To be continued.)

MONEY ASKED FOR NEW BORE

Appropriations for a low level tunnel to pierce the Contra Costa hills below the site of the present tunnel is to be sought by the Citizens Committee of 100 of Berkeley. At a meeting of the committee held recently in the Hotel Whitecourt, appropriations of $500,000 by the supervisors of Alameda county and $50,000 by the supervisors of Contra Costa county were asked. The funds are to come from the gas tax money turned over to the counties by the state.

According to plans, the two counties will be asked to appropriate like amounts for the next five years with which to construct the tunnel. It is hoped that construction can be started within a short time.

Pending this appropriation, the joint highway district proposes to issue bonds which will be redeemed by the gas tax funds. By this means, it is expected that construction will be started within a short time.

The state legislature has already passed two bills making possible the creation of a district and the use of money for tunnel construction. The bills are awaiting the signature of Gov. C. G. Young to make them effective.

NET TIGHTENS ON RADIO MAN

Tallman's pictures as that of "Mr. Johnson" whom she rented the apartment.

Get Description
Tallman, who has been questioned by no one except newspapermen who interviewed him before he sailed for San Francisco on the steamer Admiral Benson, and disappeared, denied connection with the murder.

Police obtained their first complete description of Tallman from Marine headquarters. The records said he has a brown mole on the right side of his nose, a brown wart on his right wrist, and a pitted scar on each knee cap, three vaccination scars on the back of his left arm, two cut scars on the back of his neck and a pitted scar on his right elbow.

Tallman entered the Marines in July, 1922, from Oakland, and was discharged in 1925. His discharge record listed him as undesirable because he was under age at enlistment. His character was given as fair.

Even with the added details, police here could make no progress. The hunt for the missing operator being centered in the Pacific Northwest where a man said to answer Tallman's description was reported to have been seen Saturday night.

A. Pekuri, watchman for an Astoria lumber company, said that a man came to his shanty to dry his clothes shortly after the Admiral Benson passed up the river on its way to Portland.

SEARCH ON FOR WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—UP—Exactly one week had passed tonight since William Loreo, Tallman, 23, object of an international search as a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Virginia Patsy, failed to present himself to officers who awaited his arrival on the S. S. Admiral Benson.

Last Wednesday night, shortly before midnight, the Admiral Benson docked here from Los Angeles and disclosure of one of the cleverest tricks ever accomplished by a person involved in investigation of a criminal case followed immediately.

The cents of that night and activities that had ensued during the lapse of a week will never be forgotten by persons who have kept in close touch with developments.

DISTRICT HIT IN WATER SUIT

Replenishing of the San Pablo dam reservoir with water from the Mokelumne water project of the East Bay Municipal Utility District was temporarily blocked yesterday when Frank Teiche, owner of five acres of land on San Pablo creek near Orinda obtained a temporary restraining order from Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado at Martinez.

Teiche alleges that the flow of water from the Mokelumne tunnel down San Pablo creek to the reservoir would cut away a portion of his land and would prevent him from removing sand and gravel from the creek bed, as is his custom during the summer months. He alleged that the district planned to empty 30,000,000 gallons of Mokelumne water into the reservoir daily.

District officials admitted that they planned to start the flow of water into the San Pablo reservoir Saturday, but said a low about equal to the water flow of the creek was all that

He alleged that the district planned to empty 30,000,000 gallons of Mokelumne water into the reservoir daily.

A REPORT ON PROGRESS!

Few realize the many constructive projects that have been brought to fruition in Richmond during the last three years. The Chamber of Commerce and the city council, through their joint harbor committees, present herewith a report on progress:

The United States and the city of Richmond have dredged a channel 200 feet wide and 30 feet deep from the navigable waters of the bay to and alongside the Ford plant site.

All rights of way for track connections to the inner harbor have been secured; the Santa Fe has constructed its tracks, and the Southern Pacific will begin work in the near future.

Steps have been taken toward securing rail rates to the northwest that will be comparable with rates accorded other bay cities.

Shippers of Contra Costa county and the city of Richmond have recently pledged their fullest support in routing cargo through the new Park-Richmond terminal facility now being completed on the inner harbor.

The State Legislature, shortly after the Richmond program was outlined, approved an amendment so that leases of city land to private parties could be made for 50 years instead of 10 years as formerly.

Contracts have been let by the city council for extension of necessary streets to serve the inner harbor, and this street work is to be completed this fall. Plans and specifications are about completed for storm and sanitary sewers. Application has been made to the East Bay Municipal Utility District for water mains to serve the territory. Assurance has been received from the Great Western Power company and the Pacific Gas and Electric company that necessary power and light lines will be extended wherever needed.

REVOLUTION IN FRENCH TROOPS VENEZUELA SUCCESS

BALBOA, Canal Zone, June 12.—Reports of successful revolutionary maneuvers in Venezuela were brought here today by travelers arriving from South American ports.

The travelers, contradicting Venezuelan government announcements in part, said Rafael Simon Urbina was gaining strength and that his band of rebels had captured and held control of a great part of the area around Coro.

Urbina, a former Venezuelan general, reached the Venezuelan coast Sunday with about 400 rebel followers after having made a bold raid on the Dutch military post at Willemstad.

The government reports claimed he was defeated in an attack on the Coro post. A telegram received here from sources unknown said Urbina claimed that the rebel efforts were more successful.

CITIES RAIDED BY OUTLAWS

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 12.—UP—Well mounted outlaw raiders believed to have been Venezuelan revolutionary groups, are raiding villages and farms in the Casanare district along the Colombian frontier.

Colonel Padua, with a force of 100 volunteers, has been dispatched by the government to repulse the raiders.

Driver Pays Fine With Bad Check

It cost W. E. Woodward, 2510 LeConte street, Berkeley $5, to drive without a muffler on his car or a registration slip. Woodward appeared before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom, admitted his guilt and paid the fine with a check.

Woodward is now being hunted by the police on a charge of non-payment of penalty. The check came back to Judge Alstrom marked "N.S.F."

Chamber Hits Publicity Stunt

The publicity department of the Richmond chamber of commerce yesterday refused to endorse the scheme of an Oakland advertising firm which has asked the city council for a franchise to place an advertising directory on the poles about the city.

OVER 27,000 PEOPLE KILLED

Last year 27,000 people were killed in a total of 800,000 automobile accidents. Editors write about it; safety councils advise it; lawyers argue; juries concur with sympathy and fact; judges deliver verdicts—and, unless insured, motorists pay the bills.

Are you sure your car will not add members to the casualty list in 1929? And if an accident occurs, are you able to pay? Wouldn't you rather spend a little money for one of our Public Liability and Property Damage policies and let us pay your bills? Delays are dangerous. Call on J. B. Baldwin, local Insurance Advisor, at 325 Sixth or phone Richmond 613 if you would rather be safe than sorry.

Please remember, we write insurance of any kind, anywhere.—Advt. 3 ft.

Plumbers Win Dress Prize

HARROGATE, Yorkshire, June 12.—A plumber and his mate were called to repair a burst water pipe at a big hotel here.

When the job was finished they walked into the ballroom where a fancy dress dance was in progress, at which prizes for the best costume were to be given.

The two men were in their working clothes and carried their tools, so they wrote on a card: "Plumber and his mate," and entered the costume competition.
